DETAILED ACTION

1. The claim amendments received on July 23, 2009 and September 11, 2009 necessitated the present restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-5, 7-10, and 18-19, drawn to a method of identifying a polynucleotide, vaccine target, or diagnostic target of a microbe.

Group II, claim(s) 6, drawn to a method of confirming the identity of a polynucleotide.

Group III, claim(s) 11-12, drawn to a method of comparing polynucleotides of a microbe that are expressed in vivo at different stages of infection.

Group IV, claim(s) 13-14, drawn to a method of comparing polynucleotides of a microbe that are expressed in vivo wherein the route of infection is different.

Group V, claim(s) 15-17, drawn to a method of confirming an animal model of microbial infection as a valid model.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature is the method step of adsorbing antibodies against in vivo expressed microbe antigens with in vitro microbe extracts. However, this method step is known in the art. Specifically, Ebersole et al. (J. Clin. Immunol. 3(4): 321-331, 1983; provided by applicants in the IDS) teach methods comprising collecting serum comprising antibodies from patients infected with A. actinomycetemcomitans, growing A. actinomycetemcomitans in culture (please note: since the bacteria is actually a single cell organism, cell culture propagation would be considered in vivo; however, in vitro could also be interpreted as "outside" a host), performing ELISAs, and performing adsorption studies (please refer to the entire reference particularly Methods section).

Art Unit: 1639

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

5. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

6. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

For Group I: a single, specific species of what is isolated (see claims 1, 18, and 19).

7. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 1639

8. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

9. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:
For Group I: claims 1, 18, and 19.

10. The following claim(s) are generic: claims 1, 18, and 19.

11. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species are structurally and/or functionally different.

12. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

13. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

14. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
